LADIES' LEGS. - Mrs. Anna Cora Mowatt Ritchie, in her London letter to the San Francisco Chronicle, handles the legs of some of her American and English sisters in this free man

We trust our fair American sisters will not be shocked by our unhesitating use of the word "leg," which they are accustomed to designate as "limb," or "lower limb." In England and all over Europe that little subterfuge would be pronounced indelicate and affected; and it certainly is the latter, if not the former. But to our story. White, symmetrical feminine legs are said to be disappearing from American soil. They are so much in the ascendant in England that ladies of rank have invented a new method of making known their fair proportions.

We read in the March number of the Galaxy that in a work just published, two American medical men put forth the gross slander that "a badeome leg is a rarity—we had almost said an impossibility—among American women!" We do not believe the ungallant libel, though American ladies are not in the habit of publish. ing their charms by having casts taken of their shapely legs, as an ornament for drawing room tables, or to be sold for the benefit of the vender of casts, or to be circulated among friends as a delicate token of frienship and valuable work of art. What we are about to relate appears, at the first blush, so incredible that we hold ourselves responsible for its exact trutb. Upon the drawing-room table of a lady of rank in Londou-a lady of high position and irreproachable character-may been seen, beneath a glass case, a love y dimpled little foot, del cate ancle and rounded calf, up to the knee joins; it is the cast of the leg of Lady-, the

In Soho square there is a small, rather humble looking shop, in which you can purchase for five shillings, a cast of one of the most exquisite legs; the original (in the flesh) belongs to Lady-de G-, who went to this little shop incog., and had her perfect leg moulded, and afterwards generously gave the showman the privilege of selling copies of the cast, which he does daily, for it was quickly discovered to whom the beauteous leg belonged. One lady, wife of a Mayor of a town in the provinces, came to London and had two casts taken of her leg; one nude, and one with the neat little shoe, stocking and garter. Strange to say (though no artist will call it strange) the leg with the stocking and garter produced an effect much further removed from modesty than the leg quite unclad.

Brucciani, the cast vender in Covent Garden, drives a brisk trade in casting ladies' legs, and has any quantity of models of all descriptions taken from life, and chiefly from noble life, for sale. How this leg mania originated we have not heard, but there is certes some explanation for this sudden passion emong the aristocratic fair to have their legs recognized; perhaps it is only because "a thing of beauty is a joy forever."

CIRCUMLOCUTION OFFICE. -Mr. Beck of Kentucky, gave in the House the other day a racy history of experiences in getting through the "Circumlocation Office." He said that in collecting a judgment of the Court of Claims a lawyer had to go through the following devious ways :-

First-Went to the Chief Clerk of the First Auditor; he stated the account and computed the interest.

Second-Went to another Clerk in the same office, who copied and numbered the account. Third-Went to another Clerk in the First Comptroller's office, who registered in his book the number and amount of the account. Fourth-Went to the Chief Clerk of the First Comptroller, who verified the account and the computation of interest.

Fifth-Went to the First Comptroller, who signed it. Sixth-Went back to No. 3, who again veri-

Seventh - Went to the Register's Clerk, who coried and r gistered it. Eighth-Went to the Deputy Register, who signed it. Ninth-Went to the Warrant Clerk, and obtained a warrant. Tenth-Went to Mr. West, the Chief Clerk, who signed it. Eleventh-Went to Mr. Hurtley, the Assis tant Secretary, who signed it.

Twelfth-Went to Mr. Lamb, in the Comp.

troller's office, who registered it. Thirteenth-Went to the First Comptoller, who signed it.

Fourieenth -- Went to the Register's Clerk, who copied it. Fifteenth-Went to Register Allison, who signed it. Sixteenth-Went to Mr. Mann, in the draft room, where the drait was made. Seventeenth-Went to Mr. Tuttle, Assistant Treasurer, who signed the draft. Eighteenth-Went to the Register's Clerk, who recorded the draft.

Nineteenth-Went to Register Allison, who signed the draft.

Twentieth-Went to Mr. Mann, who took my receipt for the draft and handed it over to Twenty-first-Treated Mr. Mann to a whis key-toddy. [Loud laughter.]

ORGANIC WEAKNESS Immediately cured and full vigor restored. Immediately cured and full vigor restored.

This distressing affection, which renders in miserable and marriage impossible, is the penalty paid by the victims of impropriety.—Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and iestructive symptoms of both body and minutarise. The System becomes deranged, the rise. The System becomes deranged, the Physical and Menta! Functions Weakened, Lose of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Paspitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting of the Frame, Consumption, Decay and Death.

DR. JOHNSON, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons. London, Graduate of one of the most eminant Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonish. ing cures that were ever known, many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashiulness, with frequent blushing, at-tended sometimes with derangement of mind; were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injure! themselves by interpret indulgence and adi-cary habits, which ruin both thidy and mind-unitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart Dyspepsia, Neryous Irritabi ity, Derangement of the Digestiva functions, General Debility, Symptoms "
